Our faculty believes that Onondaga is a place of possibilities. A place where students’ lives are transformed in and out of the classroom. A place where critical thinking and creative brainstorming aren’t mutually exclusive. A place where every student contributes to the success of the class, and every teacher measures his or her success one student at a time.

Onondaga professors frequently engage their students in activities that create an atmosphere of intellectual vitality. By fostering critical thinking skills, our professors are shaping today’s students to become the leaders of tomorrow.

The excellent and dedicated professors at Onondaga reach not only into the minds of students, but also their hearts. Smaller class sizes give professors a greater ability to interact with and really get to know their students on a more personal basis. And smaller class sizes mean you won’t get lost in the crowd; your professors will get to know you by name.

Finally, our faculty is dedicated to teaching rather than research which means you’ll be in the classroom with highly-credentialed professors, not teaching assistants.

And with state-of-the-art facilities such as the Whitney Applied Technology Center, students in programs such as Architectural Technology, Electronic Media Communications and Computer Studies are provided a venue for learning by doing – getting involved with cutting edge technology that is the same as what is used by professionals in the field.

Discover a Creative Campus

In addition to our highly popular “creative” programs such as Art, Photography, Music, Art and Graphic Design, there is a creative campus to be found just outside of the classroom. A hallmark of the Onondaga campus is our impressive art and sculpture collection, which stimulates the mind and offers a thought-provoking view of the striking landscape.

Another creative and dynamic aspect of the College is “Arts Across Campus,” a unique cultural arts program that brings more than 50 events, exhibits, films and concerts to the Onondaga campus each year. Open to all students and the community at large, Arts Across Campus solidifies Onondaga as a premier venue for the arts in Central New York.

The Gallery at the Ann Felton Multicultural Center is a gathering spot for students, professors and artists. Host to more than 15 exhibits annually, the Gallery is a warm and inviting place for introspection and reflection. Students and professors alike gather to view collections and displays meant to open the mind to the possibilities expressed through the many facets of art.
